We find the following credited to a rural paper in Illinois: "Dr. Wilkins, of Fairmount, recently visited a man and woman in Montgomery county, Indiana, whose ages are respectively 113 and 111 years, and who have lived together in the married state 85 years. The name of this ancient couple is Fruits, and they are the parents of Mrs. Thomas Williams, of Catlin township. The old man stands up as straight as a ramrod, and does quite a good deal of work every day. He has always been a moderate liver, and uses no tobacco, which is an argument against tobacco-users. But his wife has been a steady smoker for sixty years, which is an argument in favor of tobacco. The old lady is afflicted with a cancer, which made its appearance upon her co. The old fady is afflicted with a can-cer, which made its appearance upon her forehead forty years ago, and which she is now doctoring with coal oil. At one time in her life she weighed 225 pounds, but gradually shrank away this she now tips the beam at 125,"

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—The Inter-Ocean having published a very scurrilous article against Mr. Bristow, asserting that Babcock, in order to clear himself, would show Mr. Bristow's connection with the Ring, the following is published in the interest of the Secretary of the Treasury:

The meaning of the Inter-Ocean's at-tack on Bristow is understood to be-first, that Ham, its editor, was lately kicked out of a custom-house sinceure; second, that Babcock impressed the Whisky Ring here with the necessity of assuming the ofensive against Bristow; third, that the Grant Ring believe it to be the White House cue to attack the Secretary as a preliminary to his dis-missal, and that Bristow's unlucky connection with the Cunningham, whisky gives these two factions (if they are not one) the assailable point to begin upon.

LOVE'S SACRIFICE.

Death of George Hamilton-Coroner's Inquest This Morning.

Coroner Maley held an inquest this morning on the body of young Hamilton, who, as will be remembered, shot himself Tuesday last in a fit of despondency brought about by a disappointment in love. The object of his affection was Miss Josle Colter, the daughter of one of our leading grocers. Miss Colter was called as a witness at the inquest, but the Coroner, upon receiving the following note, telt compelled to excuse her:

CINCINNATI, Dec. 26, 1875. Hon. P. F. Maley—Dear Sir: I hereby certify that I deem it improper for Miss Colter to attend at your Court at present, because of her feeble condition. Trusting that you will see proper to exceed the Law respectfully.

cuse her, I am, respectfully, WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D.

The first witness called was a brother of the deceased, who simply testified to his brother's age and place of birth in Canada, nothing of further importance being elicited from his testimony.

Dr. L. A. James, 332 West Seventh street, was the next witness examined—Was called to see the deceased about 12 o'clock on Tuesday last. He was in the third story of No. 361 West Seventh street. I did not make a very careful examination. I found a wound near the ear and some blood on a pillow. I offered to attend to the case, but when the people tild me they could not take care tered to attend to the case, but when the people told me they could not take care of him, I did not make any further examination, but ordered him to be taken to the hospital. I asked him it he had been drinking, and he said he had. When about to leave the room I noticed a pistol folded in the bed clothes, the butt only sticking out; the chambers of the pistol seemed to be loaded. I gave the pistol to Mr. Perkins. I said nothing to him about having shot himself.

the pistol to Mr. Perkins, I said nothing to him about having shot himself.

Dr. Muscroft sworn—I found this young man at 3 o'clock on Tuesday in one of the large rooms of the Cincinnati Hospital. Upon examination I found a bullet hole about two inches above the ear on the right side of the head; the nair and edges of the wound were slightly burned: I probed the wound but iy burned; I probed the wound, but could not find the ball, and was unable to force the probe through the bony sub-stance of the skull; I then noticed a the scalp just over the wound, and immediately the brains and portions of the bone began to coze out; I asked him what was the matter; he said he had butted against a locomotive. He did not seem to be communicative, but asked to see Josie. be communicative, but asked to see Josie. I asked him several times if he had shot bimself, but he always denied it. He was always conscious, and perfectly sane up to the time of his death. I did not attempt to pass the probe into the brain, of course, as I knew that would be very dangerous and improper. He complained continually of pain in his head. The nearest he ever came to contessing anything was when he said he had run against the end of a pistol on a locomotive. I think a tablespoonful of brain substance must have oozed out during the whole time of his death. I never told any one that there were any hopes of his recovery; I have known of cases in which parties have recovered, but they are very rare.

Aaron A. Colter was next sworn—I live at 346 West Ninth street; I am a wholesale grocer: my place of business

AFTER THE BATTLE.

List of the Lame and Lazy as They Showed Up in the Police Court.

"Those who dance must pay the fiddler," is an old saying and as true as old. From the looks of the Court-room this morning, Christmas and Sunday were observed in a rather festive manner by a observed in a rather festive manner by a large number of able-bodied citizens of mirthful disposition. The bench was geant, J. P. Murphy, J. B. Waters, Jos.

chuck full, and the audience was large—
in fact the largest that has been there for years.

About the first to tumble up after the trouble with the Judge began, was the man who don't like to see his name
standing out on the papers—Jake Gardner. He and his son were called upon to explain their participation in the muss, during which Jake Fricker rang that riot alarm. Jake stated his interests at the river would suffer much owing to the rapid rise in the river, and wished the case continued the river, and wished the case continued

James Sanders is another family fisturber. His case was settled by his paying $27 and signing a bond to keep the peace until next Christmas.

W. F. Heffner, a vag, was so hungry he did not know where to stay all night, so they scooped him, and ne lodged among the Station-house cockroaches. He got off with nary fine.
